

OVERALL INDUSTRY QUEEN, . . . Honestly, Jill Herzog doesn't know a planing machine from a monkey wrench, but she does know that overalls (especially when they are made into a pair of shorts) help call public attention to "Industry Week" sponsored by the L. A. Chamber of Commerce to recognize large and small industries as payroll producers, taxpayers, and major factors in the Southland's economic strength. Thousands will tour factories during celebration October 3-8, say C. of C. officials. They neglected to mention Jill went home right after picture was taken.

October is Southland's Last Month of 'Summer'

October is typically the last thick fog. It is still too early to open the press of the rainy season in Southern California but we can concede October about one chance in seven of producing more than one inch of rainfall, and offer will produce measurable rainfall, ten-to-one odds that the month The average rainfall for October is 0.62 inches but not many Octobers make an appreciable contribution to the final seasonal total.

There is no reliable scientific method for projecting current weather trends far enough to predict the total rainfall for the season of 1949-50. At present we can only say that the odds are two to one in favor of the season 1949-50 being wetter than any of the five preceding years.

Typical minimum temperatures over all of Southern California will be in the 45-55 range, but near the end of the month there is a chance for local frost in the coastal and intermediate valleys. October can be expected to have one or two days with strong Santa Ana winds, followed by warm days and clear, cool nights. Over the inland areas there is a good chance for sunshine during the month but close to the coast there should be at least five mornings with

A & P Competitor Supports Chain In Trust Suit

An independent grocer's paid advertisement condemning the anti-trust suit to dissolve the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., is being reprinted this week in A & P ads in more than 2000 newspaper throughout the country.

The A & P competitor, C. Whit Blount of the Waynesboro (Ga.) Groceries, upholds the food chain, and voices opposition to the anti-trust charges in a message published by the Waynesboro True Citizen.

Meanwhile, other competitors expressed support A & P in newspaper advertisements in New York, Massachusetts and Louisiana.

Blount's three-column ad admits that "The A & P Co. is definitely our strongest competitor," that its operations "hold the cost, price down on foods," but in so doing "makes our suppliers hold their costs down to the same competitive level."

"Well, what's wrong with his?" Blount asks.

He adds, "we don't believe the government, or any individual should try to break up a firm that is doing a good, clean, efficient job of serving the people of this country."

An editorial in the Atlanta Journal in praise of Blount's stand, also is being reprinted in this week's A & P advertisement.

The Journal remarks that "Blount states the economic and governmental aspects of the case against A & P with a clarity and forcefulness that most of the editorial comment has lacked. Also it strikes us as a fine example of sportsmanship in business."

In reprinting both the advertisement and editorial under the heading, "A & P, Too, Takes Off Its Hat to Mr. C. Whit Blount," the chain also bows "to other competitors who have taken a similar stand."

'Fourth Estate' Members Honored By Redondo Elks

In observance of National Newspaper Week members of the press of the South Bay area were feted Tuesday night by the Redondo Beach Elks Lodge No. 1378.

Tex Cogkins, exalted ruler, praised the newspaper men for the assistance and cooperation they had given the local organization. He saluted them also for the part "newspapers have played in preserving and strengthening our democratic traditions."

Following a steak dinner and introduction of the honored guests the club staged a floor show for the entertainment of the guests and members.

Guests of Logan R. Cofton, well-known accountant, included Grover C. Whyte, publisher of the Torrance Herald, Ray Reed, publisher of the Lomita News, and Jack O. Baldwin, managing editor of the Herald.

All Trailers Must Park In Trailer Parks

The many occupied trailers in county area now unaccounted for will be brought under the health and tax jurisdictions by action of the Board of Supervisors. All trailers will have to be parked in regularly licensed trailer parks.

Supervisor Raymond V. Darby, who presented the motion, declared that great numbers of trailers now parked in back yards were, in nine cases out of ten, in violation of zoning ordinances.

The problem was referred to the Chief Administrative Officer, Regional Planning Commission, Building and Safety Department, Health Department and the County Counsel to be worked out.

the City of Torrance and a parent organization. The North American are sponsored by the recreational division of North American Aviation, Inc. The chorus, during the last season, appeared at the Hollywood Bowl, Philharmonic Auditorium, Memorial Coliseum, Wilshire Ebell Theater, and gave a number of television programs over KTLA. The group is conducted by Ralph Webster.

The North Americans feature a varied program of selections ranging from novelty songs to the heavier classics, sacred cantatas and light opera.
